MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORTINDUSTRY STRUCTURE AND DEVELOPMENTS

The healthcare and hospital industry is undergoing significant transformation driven by demographic shifts, technological advancements, and evolving patient expectations. In FY 2024-25, the industry continues to grapple with increasing patient demand fuelled by an aging population and a rise in chronic and complex health conditions, necessitating expanded inpatient care and enhanced hospital infrastructure.

Capital investments in healthcare facilities have increased substantially, with a growing focus on renovation, modernization, and expansion of hospital capacities. Providers are investing in new bed towers, advanced diagnostic imaging services, and integrating smart building technologies to improve efficiency and patient experience. These investments address growing utilization rates and competitive pressures, enabling hospitals to attract patients and skilled professionals alike.

Technological innovation remains a critical growth driver. Artificial intelligence, Internet of Things (IoT), and robotics are increasingly integrated within hospital operations to enhance diagnostics, patient monitoring, and treatment delivery. These smart technologies improve clinical outcomes and operational efficiency, supporting the shift towards value-based care.

On the government front, healthcare spending has seen a notable rise with a 12.96% increase in the 2024-25 healthcare budget allocation, reaching ₹90,958 crore in India. The government is actively promoting healthcare through various flagship schemes such as Ayushman Bharat-Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana (AB-PMJAY), which provides health insurance coverage of up to ₹5 lakh per family annually to economically weaker sections, benefitting over 23 crore individuals. Additionally, the National Health Mission (NHM) focuses on strengthening primary to tertiary care, maternal and child health, and disease control programs.

Investments under the Ayushman Bharat Health Infrastructure Mission aim to improve healthcare infrastructure, pandemic preparedness, and establish integrated public health laboratories nationwide. Government spending now accounts for 48% of the total health expenditure, reflecting increased public commitment to accessible and affordable care.

Further government initiatives include expanding health insurance coverage, boosting medical education by adding 10,000 new medical seats in FY 2025-26, and digital health efforts under the Ayushman Bharat Digital Mission to unify health records and telemedicine services.

Overall, FY 2024-25 marks a pivotal year of growing government support combined with private sector innovation and infrastructure development that collectively reshape the healthcare and hospital landscape. Our company is strategically positioned to benefit from these developments by enhancing our healthcare delivery capabilities, expanding service offerings, and improving patient outcomes through sustainable growth and innovation.

OPPORTUNITIES AND THREATS

The healthcare and hospital industry offers significant opportunities driven by rising demand fueled by population growth, urbanization, and the increasing prevalence of lifestyle diseases such as diabetes and cardiovascular conditions. Medical tourism continues to grow as India establishes itself as a preferred destination for cost-effective, high-quality treatment, supported by favorable government initiatives. Additionally, increasing penetration of health insurance, both public and private, is enhancing access and affordability for a broader patient base, which in turn encourages hospitals to invest in state-of-the-art infrastructure and technology. The ongoing integration of advanced technologies including artificial intelligence, Internet of Things, and robotics is transforming diagnostics, patient monitoring, and care delivery, improving both clinical outcomes and operational efficiencies. Government policies and increased budgetary allocations further bolster the growth environment, with substantial efforts focused on healthcare infrastructure expansion, public-private partnerships, and digital health initiatives. Furthermore, market consolidation through mergers and acquisitions presents opportunities for scaling operations and expanding presence into untapped semi-urban and rural markets.

Despite these promising avenues, the industry also faces noteworthy challenges. The high costs associated with adopting advanced medical technologies can be prohibitive for smaller facilities, potentially creating disparities in access to modern care. A shortage of skilled healthcare professionals, especially in non-metro regions, constrains the ability to meet rising patient demand effectively. Cybersecurity risks have escalated, with the healthcare sector increasingly targeted by attacks that threaten patient data privacy and operational continuity, necessitating significant investments in robust security frameworks. The regulatory landscape remains complex and evolving, adding to compliance costs and operational risks, particularly for expanding hospital networks. Many smaller hospitals continue to navigate financial pressures in the post-pandemic environment, making them vulnerable to consolidation trends. Lastly, intensifying competition from well-established hospital chains, new entrants from diverse sectors, and healthcare technology firms places pressure on margins and necessitates continuous innovation to maintain market relevance.

Overall, while the healthcare and hospital sector is positioned for substantial growth supported by favorable demographics, technology, and government initiatives, careful management of operational and strategic risks is essential to capitalize fully on these opportunities and sustain long-term success.

OUTLOOK

The global economy in 2025 is facing a period of slower growth and increasing uncertainty. According to leading economic forecasts, global GDP growth is expected to moderate to around 2.3% to 3.0% in 2025 and remain subdued in 2026. This slowdown is driven by factors such as rising trade barriers, policy uncertainty, geopolitical tensions, and tighter financial conditions across many regions. Inflation, although projected to decline globally over the next two years, remains elevated in several economies due to persistent cost pressures. The outlook highlights risks including renewed protectionism, geopolitical conflicts, and fragile financial markets that could further impact growth negatively. Nevertheless, there are opportunities for recovery if global trade tensions ease and structural reforms are implemented, fostering greater stability and confidence in economic prospects.

In contrast, the Indian economy is forecasted to maintain robust growth despite the global headwinds. The International Monetary Fund (IMF) projects India to be the fastest-growing major economy with an estimated GDP growth rate of around 6.2% to 6.3% in 2025 and 2026, substantially outpacing global averages. This resilience stems from strong domestic demand, particularly in rural consumption, ongoing reforms to improve ease of doing business, and increasing investment in infrastructure and digital technologies. While India faces its own challenges, including inflation management and global trade uncertainties, its fundamental macroeconomic strength and demographic advantage provide a significant buffer and growth impetus. The Indian economy's steady expansion reinforces its role as a key driver of global growth in the coming years.

The outlook for the Indian healthcare and hospital industry remains highly positive, aligned with the country's economic growth and demographic trends. Rising incomes, greater health awareness, and expanding health insurance coverage are driving increased demand for quality healthcare services. Public health initiatives and government investment under schemes like Ayushman Bharat continue to expand access and infrastructure, particularly in underserved areas. The sector is witnessing accelerated adoption of digital health technologies, telemedicine, and data analytics to improve care delivery and operational efficiencies. At the same time, consolidation through mergers and partnerships is enhancing service capabilities and geographic reach. However, challenges like infrastructure gaps, workforce shortages, and regulatory complexity persist, requiring ongoing investments and policy support. Overall, the healthcare and hospital industry in India is positioned for sustained growth and innovation, supported by favorable economic conditions, technological advances, and government focus on universal healthcare access.

RISKS AND CONCERNS

The global healthcare industry in 2025 faces a complex array of risks that could impact operational stability and patient outcomes. Cybersecurity remains one of the most critical concerns, with healthcare organizations experiencing increasing frequency and sophistication of data breaches and ransomware attacks. These incidents not only compromise sensitive patient information but also disrupt care delivery, sometimes resulting in diverted patients and delayed treatments. The integration of advanced technologies such as artificial intelligence and telemedicine introduces additional vulnerabilities, including potential algorithmic errors, liability challenges, and privacy risks. Workforce shortages and clinician burnout compound these operational challenges, threatening quality of care and organizational resilience. Financial pressures persist as many smaller and rural healthcare facilities struggle with declining margins and viability, risking closures that could limit access to care. Additionally, regulatory changes and the rise of new competitors intensify the need for strategic agility and innovation in risk management.

In the Indian healthcare sector, similar challenges prevail alongside distinct local dynamics. Cybersecurity threats are escalating in India, necessitating significant investment in digital security frameworks to protect patient data and ensure uninterrupted healthcare services. The shortage of skilled healthcare professionals, including doctors, nurses, and technicians, remains a pressing concern, particularly in rural and semi-urban regions. This workforce crunch affects not only service capacity but also hampers adoption of emerging medical technologies. Financial strain is evident among smaller hospitals and standalone clinics, many of which are still recovering from the economic impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic and face difficulties in balancing cost pressures with quality care delivery. Regulatory compliance and evolving healthcare policies add layers of complexity for providers navigating expansion and operational strategies. Furthermore, infrastructure limitations and supply chain disruptions occasionally impact service availability and patient care standards. Addressing these multifaceted risks requires a proactive approach focused on technology adoption, workforce development, cybersecurity resilience, and robust financial planning to sustain growth and safeguard patient trust in a rapidly evolving healthcare landscape.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Information other than the Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Company's Board of Directors and Management is responsible for the preparation of the other information. The other information comprises the information obtained at the date of this auditor's report, but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors is also responsible for overseeing the company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

ANNEXURE "B" TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

(Referred to in paragraph 2(f) under "Report on Other Legal and regulatory requirements' of our report of even date)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-Section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of AASHKA HOSPITALS LIMITED ("the Company") as of 31st March 2025 in conjunction with our audit of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ('ICAI'). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A Company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A Company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the Company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the Company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the Company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31st March 2025, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

Revenue from hospital services to patients is recognized as revenue when the related services are rendered unless significant future uncertainties exist relating to the ultimate collection. Revenue is also recognized in relation to the services rendered to the patients who are undergoing treatment/observation on the balance sheet date to the extent of services rendered. Revenue is recognized net of discounts and concessions given to the patients.

Revenue from outpatient hospital services is recognised at a point in time when patient has actually received the service. Revenue from sale of pharmacy and other such products is recognized at the point in time upon transfer of control of products to customers at the time of delivery of goods to the customers.

'Unbilled revenue' represents value of medical and healthcare services rendered in excess of amounts billed to the patients as the balance sheet date.

26.12 EARNING PER SHARE: -

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit/ (loss) after tax (including the post tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit/(loss) after tax (including the post tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) as adjusted for dividend, interest and other charges to expense or income relating to the dilutive potential equity shares, by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and the weighted average number of equity shares which could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Potential equity shares are deemed to be dilutive only if their conversion to equity shares would decrease the net profit per share from continuing ordinary operations. Potential dilutive equity shares are deemed to be converted as the beginning of the period, unless they have been issued at a later date. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. average market value of the outstanding shares). Dilutive potentially equity shares are determined independently for each period presented. The number of equity shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted for share splits/reverse share splits and bonus shares, as appropriate.

26.13 TAXES ON INCOME: -

Tax Expenses for the year, i.e. Current Tax is included in determining the net profit for the year. A provision is made for the current tax liability computed in accordance with relevant tax rates and tax laws.

Minimum Alternative tax (MAT) paid in accordance with the tax laws, which gives rise to future economic benefits in the form of adjustment of future income tax liability, is considered as an asset if there is convincing evidence that the Group will pay normal tax after the tax holiday period. Accordingly, MAT is recognized as an asset in the balance sheet when it is probable that the future economic benefit associated with it will flow to the Group and the asset can be measured reliably.

26.14 INTANGIBLE ASSETS : -

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. After initial recognition, intangible assets, are measured at cost less accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment loss.

26.15 DEFERRED TAX-ASSET /LIABILITY :-

Deferred Taxes reflect the impact of current year timing differences between taxable income and accounting income for the year and reversal of timing differences of earlier year. Deferred Tax is measured based on the tax rates and the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date.

As per the Prudence concept, Deferred Tax Assets are recognized and carried forward only to the extent that there is reasonable certainty of their realization.

However, considering past record of the Company and by making realistic estimates of profit for the future, its prudence we are not recognizing Deferred Assets as on date.

However, the same will be recognized as and when there is realistic estimates of the Profit.

26.16 IMPAIRMENT OF ASSETS: -

The Management periodically assesses, using external and internal sources whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If an asset is impaired, the Company recognizes impairment loss as the excess of carrying amount of the assets over recoverable amount.

26.17 PROVISIONS, CONTINGENT LIABILITIES AND CONTINGENT ASSETS :-

A provision is recognized if, as a result of a past event, the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation that can be estimated reliably, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation.

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the Company or a present obligation that is not recognized because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation. A contingent liability also arises in extremely rare cases where there is a liability that cannot be recognized because it cannot be measured reliably. The Company does not recognize a contingent liability but discloses its existence in the standalone financial statements. Contingent liabilities and commitments are reviewed by the management at each balance sheet date.

Contingent assets are not recognized in the financial statements. However, contingent assets are assessed continually and if it is virtually certain that an inflow of economic benefits will arise, the asset and related income are recognized in the period in which the change occurs.
